MPS IN HUMANISTIC/MULTICULTURAL EDUCATION - TEACHER CERTIFICATION TRACK

Humanistic/Multicultural Education

Shannon McManimon, (845) 257-2828, mcmanims@newpaltz.edu

The Educational Studies Department of the State University of New York at New Paltz offers a Master's degree in Professional Studies in Humanistic/Multicultural Education. The 30-credit General Program is designed for human service, not-for-profit, and higher education professionals and K-12 professionally-certified educators seeking additional understandings and skills for teaching diverse learners.

The 36-Credit Teacher Certification Track (070C)

The Teacher Certification Sequence of the program is currently available to special subject teachers (family/consumer science, health, music, physical education or technology) who are initially certified to teach in NYS and are seeking professional certification. The program of study focuses on providing content and skills necessary for teaching the diverse student population of New York State. This program provides teachers effective instructional practices for actively engaging all students in developmentally appropriate and meaningful learning related to the State Learning Standards. Teachers graduate with knowledge and strategies to engage and challenge all students to reach their fullest potential—intellectually, emotionally, and socially.

In particular, the courses in the program address these areas: multicultural/gender fair education, cooperative learning, conflict resolution, group process, active learning, curriculum development, action research and teacher leadership for innovation and change.

NOTE: Some weekend classes are required to complete this program. If this is a problem, please notify the coordinator when you apply to the program in order to plan for a mutually acceptable accommodation.

Shannon McManimon (257-2828) and Nancy Schniedewind (257-2827) are program advisors. Persons seeking admission to this program should contact one of these professors at their offices or through the Educational Studies Department (257-2831).

Applications will be reviewed two times per year. Deadlines are:
- October 15 for spring semester matriculation
- April 15 for fall semester matriculation

Admission Requirements

One official copy of all undergraduate and graduate course work; the baccalaureate transcript should be from a regionally accredited institution with a minimum 3.0 cumulative grade point average. The degree should contain appropriate courses in the special subject area of certification.

Initial or provisional New York State teacher certification in health, physical education, technology, music, and family/consumer science.

Three letters of recommendation from individuals who have a professional relationship with the prospective student and can address the student's potential for graduate work.

A two-page letter describing how you expect the MPS Humanistic/Multicultural Program will help you meet your personal and professional goals. This can be integrated into the statement on the application form.

An interview with a member of the faculty.

Special Subject Areas: Family Consumer Science, Health, Music, Physical Education, Technology (070C)
