

CULMINATING ASSESSMENTS

The requirements for a master's degree may include at least one of the following: passing a comprehensive exam, writing a thesis based on independent research, giving an oral defense of the thesis, or completing an appropriate special project or internship.