The Center for Student Resources & Academic Support is funded primarily by a United States Department of Education (USED) Student Support Services Grant. Eligibility for the grant program may be based on academic consideration, financial consideration or other parameters as determined by the United States Department of Education guidelines. Students who meet the eligibility criteria are provided with a comprehensive academic assistance program that includes a multidisciplinary tutorial program, a writing center, direct instruction in critical thinking and a support system for the learning disabled. A major goal of the department's staff is to challenge students to fulfill their academic potential by becoming critical thinkers and active learners.
